

Support continues to grow for the Asia Bus Response initiative, which now has pledges from operators for the supply of 65 buses for areas hit by December's tsunami. It has secured the support of House of Commons Transport Committee chairman Gwyneth Dunwoody who says: "I hope everyone will take this appeal seriously and support it with the enthusiasm it deserves." To learn more visit www.asiabusresponse.co.uk.